

Leading During A Crisis, Both Personally and Professionally

Presented by:

Harry Kraemer, Professor
Kellogg School of Management,
Northwestern University

In this session, Professor Harry Kraemer will discuss what leaders should consider to stand the best chance of emerging from the current crisis with their organization—and their conscience—intact.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- » You cannot lead others if you cannot lead yourself.
- » Crises can often cause leaders to freeze in place.
- » Crises require significant effective communication.

TAKE ACTION

The following statements are provided for you to reflect on and identify next steps in your development.

- » Learn the critical importance of self-reflection
- » Learn how to manage worry, fear, anxiety, pressure and stress
- » Learn the three step model to successfully lead in a crisis

